

Town of Hamden Town Board Meeting of March 5, 2025

Highway Superintendent Tweedie reported that we are having continual meetings on the August 2024 FEMA declaration. We have added the Oxbow Hollow project to the declaration. We will start road ditching and shoulders when the weather breaks. Roads are tough with the frost coming out. The contractor for NYSEG is tearing up our roads in the North end of Hamden and they need to be made aware that we have a local law on road destruction on large projects. They are working on the rebuilding of the electric transmission lines in the area. Hayes overhead doors are scheduled to start door replacement on March 10th.

Superintendent Tweedie prepared with his committee a highway expenditures report for 2025. Total projected cost will be in the $528,000 range and will involve Feak Hollow, Munn Road, Fish Hollow Road, and Ridge Roads.

The board voted to advertise for trucking of stone products for the Town in 2025. Bids will need to be in on April 2, 2025 before 6:30 pm.

The audit of the Justice books was done and found to be sufficient. Audit of the Town Clerk and Supervisors books were also done with the same result.

Supervisor Marshfield reported that the bills have been sent out for the winter sidewalk maintenance in the hamlet of Hamden.

The proposed sign ordinance was discussed and it was felt by our Town Attorney that sign laws would be better suited in our Site Plan review law rather than a standalone law. Approved.

The board approved a project bid of $11,480 on upgrading the highway electric service from 200 amps to 320 amps. Secure Electrical of Delhi will be the contractor.

The board approved a project bid of $38,951 for a heat pump in the Highway Garage. Eco Heat of Meridale was the contractor of choice.

A list of 10 septic systems were given to the board to pump out in DeLancey for 2025. The board approved them. (River Haven aptments, Scofield, Bryden, Marshfield, Bishop aptment., Bodo, Avery, Miller, Ermeti, and Hutson rental).

Acqualogics Inc. is upgrading the communications systems in Hamden and DeLancey Water Districts at the cost of $5,045 for each system. This would convert the equipment to fiber in 4 locations and would allow for communications from one head end to the other.

The Ag and Markets report was received on our dog control and all was very good.

Respectfully submitted by Wayne Marshfield
